OSHA #7225 Transitioning to Safer Chemicals

LIVE VIRTUAL TRAINING

Join us for OSHA #7225 in a virtual classroom setting! OSHA #7225 is being offered online for your convenience and safety, in partnership with the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality and the Washington State Department of Ecology.

COURSE OVERVIEW

OSHA #7225: Transitioning to Safer Chemicals gives participants hands-on experience with innovative processes for transitioning to safer chemicals, as well as the new methods, tools, and databases that can assist in this process. The course will guide participants through OSHA's seven-step substitution planning process for understanding and evaluating chemical use, identifying and assessing alternatives, and implementing those alternatives that are safer.

INTENDED AUDIENCE

Small business owners, supply chain managers, and purchasing staff, maintenance supervisors, quality control managers, facility managers, and workers who utilize hazardous chemicals at their work-sites, along with occupational safety and health professionals and pollution prevention specialists who provide technical assistance on the control of chemical hazards.

VIDEO CONFERENCE FORMAT

This course will be held via Zoom video conference. Participants are required to have a broadband internet connection, and a desktop or laptop computer with a microphone and camera.

*FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE

The Oregon Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is offering a $100 discount for the first ten course registrants who are members of tribal nations within Oregon, or who are owners or employees of small or medium sized businesses in Oregon (one per business please). If you are interested in receiving this discount, contact ce@uw.edu.

The Washington State Department of Ecology is offering a $100 discount for participants in Washington State. Tribal, BIPOC, and under-served community members are encouraged to register. If additional support is needed, please contact ce@uw.edu.
